

Granberg Trendline KM60 kitchen mixer with separate control handle - without dishwasher shut-off

Granberg Trendline KM60 Kitchen Mixer Tap

Trendline KM60 is an elegant kitchen mixer tap with a separate spout and control handle, designed to combine contemporary aesthetics with outstanding functionality. Soft contours and clean lines work together to create a timeless appearance that complements both modern and traditional kitchen environments.

Its flexible design provides a high degree of installation freedom. The control handle can be positioned to the right or left of the spout, or in another suitable location for optimum ergonomics and ease of use. When combined with Granberg's height-adjustable worktop systems, the handle can also be mounted at the front edge of the worktop, improving accessibility and ensuring comfortable operation for all users.

Manufactured from stainless steel for long-lasting durability, premium quality and an exclusive finish.

- Can be integrated into the front edge of Granberg worktop systems for improved accessibility
- Manufactured from high-quality stainless steel
- Cold Start function helps reduce energy consumption
- Adjustable spout rotation for improved usability and easier cleaning
- Spout can be locked in a fixed position (0°)
- Adjustable Neoperl® aerator for optimum water flow and comfort

Flexible solution for accessible kitchens

Combined with Granberg sinks and height-adjustable worktop systems, Trendline KM60 offers a well-designed solution for modern and accessible kitchens. The separate spout and control handle provide greater installation flexibility and allow the tap to be adapted to individual user requirements.

The handle can be positioned wherever it is most accessible, for example at the front edge of Granberg's height-adjustable worktop systems. This improves accessibility and makes operation easier for users with limited reach or reduced hand function, while contributing to a more inclusive kitchen environment.

Trendline KM60 is designed to perform equally well in movable installations and fixed kitchen solutions where high standards of design, ergonomics, accessibility and long-term reliability are required.
